Peer Mediation for Law Enforcement Organizations

Course code: SL159 From: 02-12-2024 Venue: London - Premier inn Victoria Course Fees: 4445 £

Introduction

This peer mediation training course for police organizations prepares participants to act as workplace peer mediators, resolving conflicts, complaints, and other workplace disputes. A typical executive or manager can spend up to 30-40% of their time in conflict. Senior executives say they spend up to 20% of their time on legal matters, such as harassment and dismissal. This provides participants with a thorough understanding of the mediation, methods, and practices used in their coworkers' workplaces.

Mediation is generally defined as an acceptable third-party intervention in negotiations or disputes with limited decision-making power, assisting the parties involved in voluntarily reaching a mutually acceptable solution to a problem in conflict. To do. Mediation can establish, strengthen, or terminate relationships between parties in a way that minimizes psychological damage, in addition to addressing critical issues.
