Appraisal and Management of Potential Investors and Associates

Course code: ML81 From: 03-08-2025 Venue: Istanbul - Radisson Blu Hotel, Istanbul Sisli Course Fees: 4750 £

Introduction

This Training Course focuses on one of the most critical activities in the development of the oil and gas industry: critical analysis and evaluation of potential investors and partners. Structure, technology, competition, and strategic choice are all becoming more complex in the oil and gas industries.

As a result, a company's relationships with potential investors and partners now require a much higher level of appraisal and focus than in the past.

This high-level 10-day Course will focus on the use of cutting-edge due diligence tools and techniques in the development of effective relationships with these two strategically significant stakeholder categories.

Due diligence is multifaceted. It is based on an understanding of potential investors' and partners' needs and objectives, their decision criteria, and their compatibility with our own company's strategic and operational objectives. Finally, it necessitates a structured process for effectively attracting and integrating new investors and partners in order to sustain continuous improvement in the company's profitable growth.

Evaluating Collaborative and Development Opportunities

- The changing dynamics of the global oil and gas business
- Due diligence in the financial appraisal of potential investors and partners
- Due diligence in the non-financial appraisal of potential investors and partners
- The specific challenges of partnering in alliances and joint ventures
- Best practice in managing investor and partner relationships

This training course is split into two modules:

MODULE I - Assessing Collaborative Development Opportunities.

MODULE II - Managing Collaborative Development.

Each module is structured and can be taken as a stand-alone training course; however, delegates will maximize their benefits by taking Modules 1 and 2 back-to-back as a 2-week training course.

Course Objectives of Appraisal and Management

At the end of this training course you will get how to:

- Identify the precise characteristics of new investors and partners

- Evaluate the past performance and future potential of new investors and partners
- Select and engage with new investors and partners
- Anticipate and deal with the challenges of integrating new investors and partners
- Measure the strategic impact of adding the new relationships

Course Methodology of Appraisal and Management

The training process is based on a carefully planned combination of highly focused inputs by the course leader, using a balanced set of state-of-the-art presentation mechanisms. The emphasis will be on learning by examining major decisions in which the use of best practice principles of due diligence has been critical. Above all, the principles and approaches to this subject will be illustrated by reference to real-life organizations with which the course leader has been personally involved.

Besides delegates will be encouraged to introduce issues for open discussion and creative thought.

Specifically, we will use the following training methods:

- Presentations by the course leader on tools and techniques of due diligence
- Group work on case studies based on analysis, interaction, and discussion
- Focused problem-solving exercises, including "outside the box" thinking
- Interactive discussions of issues that currently affect the company
- Creating personal and team plans for effective application of the seminar
